

HCE NEWSLETTER

June/July 2015

St. Croix County Association for Home and Community Education

Dear HCE Members,

For all of you that attended the Garden Gig, thank you and I hope you learned a few new tips, I sure did! The Hauser Apiary Bee man and the owner of Plantables were the most interesting. All the speakers were good, and several asked if they could come back next year, so it sounds like Garden Gig III will be happening.

I hope this spring weather isn't getting you down, Is everyone busy planning a full summer of activities, with family, friends or just trying one new thing each week. Trying one new thing per week isn't that hard to do. Maybe it is something as simple as a new breakfast cereal or creating a pretty place setting to enjoy your meal on. I have started to only drink my morning coffee with a cup and saucer, it feels so much more elegant. For another new thing to try, give one compliment to some one each day. I struggled for a long time to try and be less negative, and by forcing myself to say something nice, it improved my attitude and helped me steer myself away from negative people. So, cup and saucer, a compliment or something else you regularly don't do, get ready for summer--give it a try. It will make the summer so much more enjoyable.

Remember that each club should be planning a silent auction item for the fair, in a $20-25 value. Thanks again the all who helped make the Garden Gig a success. And special thanks to Wanda Breitbach for assuming the office of Vice-President and to Char Croes for stepping in as Secretary due to Carol's moving away.

Have a great summer everyone,
Maggie Hall

Betty and Shirley agreed to come out during those dates to read. Maggie suggested we send a thank you note to the Grant Lady thanking her for all her hard work on the Wisconsin Bookworms. Carol Brault will handle this.

Joan Brown reported on Meet and Greet.

Maggie brought up amending the by-laws. Since this is done at the county level, it was agreed to leave it alone and bring it up at the county meeting. Encouragement was offered for everyone to attend the planning meeting for 2016 and help come up with new ideas.

Clarification was made on the annual dues as $6.50 and it was decided to leave it at that.

Suggestion was requested on where the Pennies for Friendship funds will go next year. Phoebe gave us the information on the Mongolian Green House. Last year $137 was raised for Women Walk the World and $180 for Water for All. There were 5 categories. The other was Donna Wilcoxson’s granddaughter Britany Hanson. The rules were clarified that all college students are eligible to apply for the scholarships. It is not for just new students or seniors. It was suggested we add the Jones Scholarship request to our newsletter for next year.

Motion was made and seconded to give a certificate for each 5 years of membership after 50 and a plaque for 25 and 50 years. If you don't see your years of membership or an error in the newsletter please let us know so we can get it corrected.

Pennies for Friendship

Pennies for Friendship were collected at the Spring Council Salad luncheon ($31.34) and will be designated for Women Walk the World, as decided at the meeting. We voted on the monies collected at the Fall Council meeting will go towards the Mongolian Greenhouses. Below is a brief description of this project voted on at the CWC (Country Women's Council) meeting last fall.

For the full article visit: <http://www.cwcusa.org/Events.html>

Country Women's Council USA - CWC Meeting

CWC adopts ACWW Project in Common to help fund the development and building of two greenhouses in Mongolia.

Project No. 0973.

The area: is Khovd Aimag, Mongolia,

The Society: Sain Tus Center

NGO Project is: Greenhouse Development

ACWW Grant: £3,588 or $5742.04 US

(This figure includes the money to build the greenhouses plus the cost of monitoring the project during the building process as stated in their application.)

The Sain Tus Center NGO applied to Associated Country Women of the World for funding of the development of two greenhouses for their community. The member societies of CWC voted at their area meeting in Wisconsin last September to adopt and fund this project to help families in Mongolia to ensure a longer growing season for their food. By funding this project we are helping to achieve that goal. This project is monitored throughout the process and progress reports are to be sent to ACWW each six months. These reports will then be forwarded to The USA Area President for sharing with the CWC societies. The first report, with pictures, has been received and shared to society presidents, as a power point presentation. This project can be fully funded with just a small donation of 25¢ per society member. Please help us to help the families of Khovd Aimag, Mongolia learn more about growing, processing and selling the produce that they can raise with the development and construction of these two greenhouses.

Spinach

Spinach is a cool-season crop that should be planted in early spring, about 4 weeks before your area's average date of last frost. There are two basic types of spinach — smooth leaves or crinkly (savoy) leaves.

Spinach does best in well-drained soil rich in organic matter, and will tolerate partial shade.

Keep weed-free by careful cultivation to avoid injuring the shallow roots. Make sequential plantings about 2 weeks apart to continue harvesting spinach through the summer. The plant grows a rosette of dark green leaves, but under warm temperatures and long daylength it bolts, or goes to seed. Spinach may also be planted in early fall.

Begin picking individual leaves when the plants are about 2" tall or harvest the entire plant at maturity. The leaves may be eaten fresh or cooked and can be refrigerated up to 1 week.

Aphids

Most aphids are 1/8" long and have "exhaust pipes" protruding from the back end of their pear-shaped bodies. Many species are green, but others are white, yellow, red (pink), brown, black, or mottled. They reproduce rapidly to form colonies or clumps, particularly on the new growth of plants.

Aphids have sucking mouthparts and feed exclusively on plant sap from stems, leaves, and even roots. Large numbers of aphids can reduce the vigor of plants. In some cases feeding causes distorted leaves, stunting and/or wilting. Some species of aphids transmit plant viruses.

Control

- Natural controls — such as weather and predators — eliminate significant numbers of aphids.
- Gardeners may use a strong jet of water to wash aphids off plants.
- Insecticidal soap controls aphids well, but must be applied frequently.

Peony

Herbaceous peonies are an old-fashioned favorite that are easy to grow and often live 50 years or more. These shrub-like plants grow to 3-4' tall and wide. Large, full double-flowering peonies may be the most popular, but several other forms are available, including single, anemone, and semi-double, in colors ranging from pinks, reds, white and even yellow.

The best time to plant peonies is in early fall — September and October are ideal. Plant in full sun in a fertile, well-drained site. Planting depth is critical to flowering. The "eyes" at the top of the roots should be planted about 1½ inches below the soil surface; if planted deeper the plants will not flower. It may take 2-3 years for the plants to flower after transplanting as they establish their extensive root system. After the leaves die back in fall, cut the plant to the ground to control diseases.

Verticillium Wilt

Verticillium wilt is a disease caused by a soil-borne fungus with a very wide host range. It commonly affects maple, ash, redbud and smokebush as well as various vegetable crops.

The fungus typically enters plants through wounds in the root tissue, but can also get into intact roots that are under drought stress or located in overly wet soil. The fungus grows and reproduces in the tree's vascular system, eventually blocking it so water can no longer reach the leaves. This causes wilting or flagging of foliage. Leaves may drop while they are still green, especially in ash. Symptoms typically progress from the top of the tree downward.

Control

- There is no cure for verticillium wilt. To keep an infected plant alive as long as possible, prune out the infected branches.
- Use plants resistant to the fungus.

Life happens; no matter how we try to keep on top of things, life can get in the way, or in some cases, life opens up new horizons. Our executive board is no different. Recent changes due to 'life' have included Carol Brault deciding to leave Woodville and return to her family down south, so she has relinquished her position as secretary as well as her executive board position. Char Croes has graciously accepted to fulfill the position from June 1 until January when a new secretary will be take office. A huge thank you to Char. Marie Nelson also has a busy 'life' going on right now and needed to step down as our vice president. Newly retired Brenda Breitbach just got a new 'life' upon retirement and stepped up to fill in for Marie. I am grateful to all the ladies who have been willing to assume these positions.

We have two new board members, Wanda Breitbach and Carol Kobernick; welcome aboard ladies!

- A new membership recognition system is being implemented. Now that we have so many members passing the 50 years mark, we will be giving certificates to members as they reach the 55, 60, 65, 70, 75 years as members, and so on. Members will receive a wooden plaque for 25 and 50 years as well as lapel pins.
